

Application Guidelines for Special (Young) Research Fellows in ‘Leading-Edge Urban Studies’,
Osaka City University
(August 2018)

Urban Research Plaza (URP), Osaka City University is seeking to appoint a number of qualified researchers as ‘Special (Young) Research Fellows in Leading-Edge Urban Studies’, aiming at supporting proactive and global standard research activities by young researchers in continuation with URP’s previous Global COE activities according to the terms below.

1. Research activities

- 1) The Special (Young) Research Fellows in ‘Leading-Edge Urban Studies’ will carry out an independent research on a topic closely connected to the ‘Host Research Projects’, under the guidance of a ‘Host Researcher’, who chairs or participate the projects and are affiliated with URP ‘Platform for Leading-Edge Urban Studies’. Applicants should consult the appendix to write their application.
- 2) The tenure is one year, starts on Oct. 1st, 2018 and expires on Sep. 30th, 2019. Applicants are required to design their research plan that will be completed in this period.
- 3) Appointed as Special (Young) Research Fellows in ‘Leading-Edge Urban Studies’, they must make research presentations at meetings held by URP for a joint review, and are also expected to actively take part in planning and running other seminars or workshops conducted by the Plat form for Leading-Edge Urban Studies.
- 4) Appointees will be supplied with research funds; the amount will be assessed every fiscal year in accordance with their one-year research plans. However, the maximum is 200 thousand yens for the first half of the tenure that belongs to fiscal year 2018. The amount for the second half will be assessed again likewise at the end of Mar. 2019, when the URP budget for the fiscal year 2019 will be almost approved. It must be noted that the fiscal year changes at the end of March or the beginning of April, and that the fund cannot be carried over to the next fiscal year.
- 5) Research funds are disbursed according to the rules of the university. A single travel expense must be covered with a single research fund.
- 6) “Research and budget result reports” must be submitted at the both ends of Mar. 2019 and Sep. 2019.

2. Requirements for application

- 1) Applicants must be researchers who are able to be devoted to research activities (i.e. have no duty to concentrate on their jobs in other organizations) and come under one of the following three categories: i) Being enrolled in doctoral course, ii) Having completed doctorate coursework and presently working on the doctoral thesis, and iii) Having obtained doctorate.
- 2) Each applicant must choose only one ‘Host Researcher’ from the appendix, and receive their consent in writing with the form prescribed.
- 3) A letter of recommendation from the present supervisor of the applicant is also required. The ‘Host Researcher’ and the supervisor may be identical.
- 4) Those who have ever appointed as Special (Young) Research Fellows in Leading-Edge Urban Studies by the fiscal year 2017 are qualified only in the case where they have already received doctorate.

3. Application Procedure

- 1) Requisite documents (Use prescribed forms):
 - a. Special (Young) Research Fellows in ‘Leading-Edge Urban Studies’ Application
